price. Now to prove to you that this statement is absolutely true, we would like for any reader of this paper to order one of our matchless organs or pianos, and we will offer you a great bargain. Particulars Free. Satisfaction GUARANTEED or money promptly refunded at any time within three (3) years, with interest at 6 percent, on either Piano or Organ, fully warranted ten years. 1870 we left home a penniless plowboy; to-day we have nearly one hundred thousand of Beatty's organs and pianos in use all over the world. If they were not good, we could not have sold so many. Could we? No, certainly not. Each and every instrument is fully warranted for ten years, to be manufactured from the best material market affords, or ready money can buy.

ORGANS

Church, Chapel, and Parlor Organs, Grand, Square, Pianos and upright Beautiful Wedding, Birthday or Holiday Presents. Catalogue Free. Address Hon. Daniel F. Beatty, Washington, New Jersey.

Are unequalled for smooth, tough leads. If your stationer does not keep them, mention DECORATOR AND FURNISHER, and send 16¢ in stamps, to Joseph Dixon Crucible Company, Jersey City, N. J., for samples worth double the money.

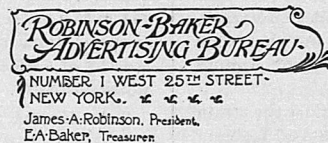

To Clean Piano Keys.—Rub them with fine glass-paper until the stain disappears, then polish with putty and water. Pianoforte keys cannot be properly bleached unless they are removed from the instrument. One way is to rub the ivory with powdered pumice stone and water, and place it whilst moist under a glass shade and expose it to sunshine. A new method, discovered by a Frenchman, is to suspend the bone or ivory in oil of turpentine, and expose it to the light for three or four days. The substance to be bleached must not rest on the bottom of the vessel, as a thin acid matter is deposited during the operation.

Characteristics of Building Stone.—In selecting a stone for a building, inquiry and investigation should be made to ascertain whether it possesses certain important characteristics such as durability, the power to resist atmospheric or other external influences. The chemical composition should be as to resist the action of the atmosphere, or what it contains. The position the stone is to occupy in the building may have a great deal of influence on its durability. Stone is more durable when its structure is crystalline. The facility with which a stone can be converted into various shapes in which it is required if of importance, and the hardness of the stone is an important point if it is to be subjected to a considerable amount of wear and friction. The strength of the stone should be ascertained if it is to be subjected to any excessive or unusual stresses. The weight of stone has occasionally to be considered. Its appearance is often of importance, especially in the face work of the buildings.

Wall Filling, Dado and Frieze in Fire-Proof Stereo Relief.

The Stereo Relief Decorative Composition.

THE Stereo Composition can be moulded into an infinite variety of artistic forms, in pure white or in tints, and can be gilded, silvered or bronzed, thus readily reproducing or duplicating any desired design furnished by architects or decorators. This substance contains no oil, white lead, or other inflammable material, and is absolutely fire-proof and sanitary. It is not affected by contact with water or by any sudden change of temperature.

Its expense is less than that of any other artistic decoration, and it fully equals the best in beauty, while it surpasses all others in the essentials of Strength, Lightness, Adhesiveness and Non-Inflammability.

It is admirably adapted for the decoration of churches, theatres, public halls, hotels, restaurants and private residences; and, as a substitute for paint, paper, frescoing, kalsomining or other hard finish, it is infinitely more economical—quality and durability being considered.

Stereo Relief Friezes, Dadoes, Panels, Etc.

The Company has always on hand a large and elegant assortment of friezes, wall fillings, borders, panels, dadoes, rosettes, etc., etc., in relief, manufactured from its Stereo Composition. This material is far superior to papier-maché, or plaster; is light, but strong and substantial, and admits of the application of any desired style of ornamentation. These decorations, embracing entirely new designs, are made in very high, as well as low relief, and are readily and safely handled.

Your attention is especially asked to the fact that our work is complete before it is sent on from our factory, and can be put up by any workman in the decorative trade, thus enabling our patrons who are at a distance to render perfect satisfaction to their customers.

The high relief in which this new composition can be produced forms one of its prominent features, an elevation of six or eight inches being as readily shown as one of half an inch. And, as the material is cast in flexible moulds, a perfect under-cut—that great desideratum of artistic relief work—is obtained with ease. In representations of heads and figures, a life-like resemblance is effected; and architectural details are also followed with a similar fidelity; while in fruits, vines and flowers, the grace, beauty and pose of nature are retained, and the stiffness and preciseness of stamped work, such as the Lincrusta-Walton or papier-maché, are avoided.

In conclusion, we claim that there is a great public need of productions such as ours, and we believe that, in our new material, we have reached the desired point of perfection.

Pre-eminent in all elements of decoration, and its development and practicability established beyond peradventure, we most respectfully ask your co-operation in the ultimate establishment of the Stereo Relief Decorations as a leader for all kinds of wall and ceiling ornamentation.

We invite correspondence, and, having no fear of competition, shall be glad to furnish estimates promptly. Personal inspection of our work is solicited, as well as a visit to our factory and salesroom.

To Imitate Black Ebony.—First wet the wood with a solution of logwood chips and copperas (i. e., green vitrol or sulphate of iron, ferrous sulphate), boiled together and laid on hot. For this purpose 2 oz. of logwood chips, with 1 1/2 oz. of copperas, to a quart of water, will be required. When the wood has become dry, wet the surface again with a mixture of vinegar and steel filings. This mixture may be made by dissolving 2 oz. of steel filings in half pint of vinegar. When the work has become dry, glasspaper it down until quite smooth, then oil and fill in with powdered drop black mixed with the filler (i. e., a wood filler like that used in polishing). Work to be ebonised should be free from holes, etc. The work may require a coat of quick-drying varnish, and should then be rubbed with finely pulverized pumice stone and linseed oil until very smooth.

To Remove Grease From Cloth.—Drop on the spot some oil of tartar, or salt of worm-wood, which has been left in a damp place until it turns into a fluid; immediately wash the place with lukewarm soft water, then with cold water and the spot will disappear.

The distinguished Dr. L. A. Sayer said to a lady of the haut ton (a patient): "As you ladies will use them, I recommend 'Gouraud's Cream' as the least harmful of all the Skin preparations." A New Treatment of Painted Walls.—A novel finish which, for want of a better term, has received the designation of "roughing," has been adopted in recent decorative works in this country and England, and admits of considerable artistic development. The walls to be so treated are painted in the ordinary way, the final coat being laid on rather more "round" than is usual with ordinary pigments. When the paint is sufficiently set, but before it has had time to skin, or dry over its exposed surface, the walls are combed with an ordinary graining comb, either in perpendicular lines, or the combing may assume various shapes as eccentric rings, diamonds, squares, cross hatchings, etc., at the discretion of the painter. The effects of light and shadow upon this combed surface enable very strong colors to be employed with good results, and gold bronze, zinc colors, enamels and other brilliant metallic compounds may be appropriately used in the decorative work. Of course, much of the excellent appearance of "roughing" depends on the degree of skill with which the combing has been done and the judgment displayed in the scheme of color.

Each article will be prepared by a writer of long practical acquaintance with his subject, and will be copiously illustrated. Among the early papers in this series will be The Development of the Cotton Manufacture, by EDWARD ATKINSON; The Iron and Steel Industry, by W. F. DUFFEE; Woolens, by S. N. D. Dr. ANDREW D. WHITE's New Chapters in the Warfare of Science will continue to appear from time to time.

The other contents of the magazine will be of the same general character and high order of excellence as heretofore.

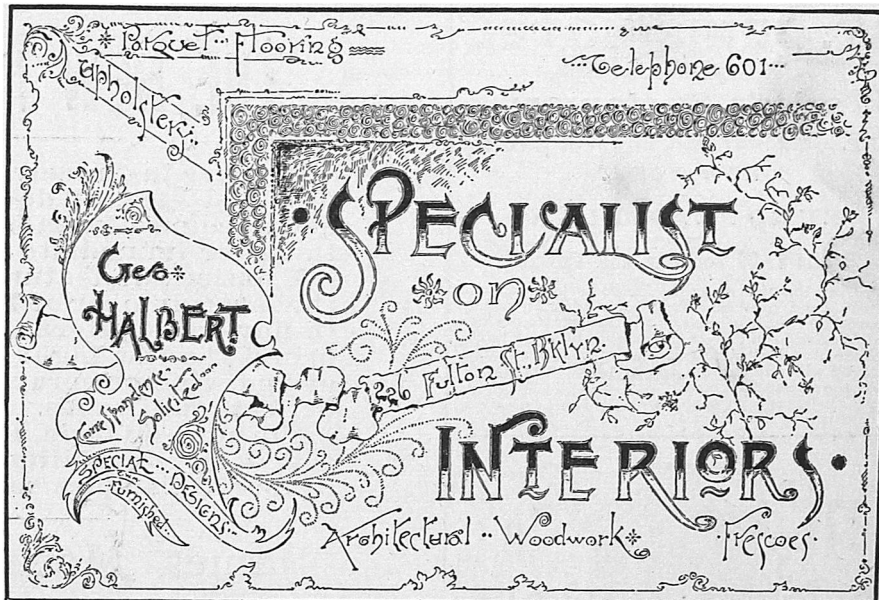

With other illustrations, each number contains a finely engraved Portrait of some eminent man of science, with a Biographical Sketch.

There is hardly a question of the day upon which science does not throw light, hardly a problem of human interest whose solution cannot be best approached by the method of scientific research. The brightest minds have recognized that science furnishes the most efficient guidance in ordering the lives and affairs of men.
